

Head Boys Basketball Coach – Justin Brandt

Coach Brandt has been the head leader of the boys basketball program since the 2018-2019 basketball season. Before becoming the head coach he was an assistant coach in the Eagle Valley Basketball program for 10 of the previous 12 years. As a basketball philosophy Eagle Valley emphasises a positionless basketball system that develops skill development more than play memorization on offense. On defense we enjoy applying pressure and dictating where we want the opposition to be rather than reacting to their schemes. Our programs's culture is focused on creating student athletes that will L.E.A.D. our community. To do this we instil the following principles...

- Love and care for your teammates
- Energy and enthusiasm for 32-18-2
- Accountability to our commitments and roles
- Do the work

We know that love is the ultimate motivator and when we love and care for each other we will push and fight for each other that will lead to winning. We will choose to play with more energy and focus than the opposing team for a 32 minute game, an 18 second possession, and a 2 second decision on the basketball court. Players will hold each other accountable to the commitments they have as a program. And simply put, we will outwork the teams in our county, conference, and state.

When not coaching, Coach Brandt enjoys his amazing marriage to his high school sweetheart, raising their 4 children Macklin, Macy, Molly, and Mya. He enjoys teaching weights in the wellness department and riding mountain bikes in beautiful eagle county. Coach Brandt and his wife also lead Eagle Valley High School's Young Life group.
